MONITORING

- Wall Mounted LCD Display
- Web Monitoring
- Installer Monitoring

Enphase inverters can be monitored with the web connected Envoy monitoring device. The Envoy features an LCD readout of system status. The Envoy transmits data over your broadband Internet connection to the Enlighten web monitoring service where you can view your inverter performance individually or as a complete system from anywhere with a computer or mobile device. Historical performance data is tracked allowing for time-lapse system viewing for each solar panel. Fafco Solar technicians can monitor your system performance from our office and help you maximize your solar energy output.
